1. Introduction

The Public Transport (Passenger Safety) Act 2008 establishes rules of behaviour that apply to users of bus services and infrastructure. The Act prescribes penalties for people who do not comply with the rules of behaviour.

The Act states that a person must not cause a nuisance or inconvenience to others on any Public Transport Area. Behaviour that may cause a nuisance or inconvenience to other users of a Public Transport Area is prohibited.

2. Prohibited Conduct

It is prohibited to advertise or promote any function, event or affiliation at any Public Transport Area without the express permission of the Director of Passenger Transport.

Specifically, a person must not distribute any material of a notifying or advertising nature, including, but not limited to, notices or flyers advertising events, functions, products for sale or material of political, environmental or social nature.

This includes:

- Handing out or posting materials on any walls, or other surfaces in or around Public Transport Areas. Making any unsolicited approaches to any person at any Public Transport Area for the purposes of advertising or promoting an event;

Busking is also not permitted at any Public Transport Area.

3. Performance Management

Performance will be measured through the Customer Feedback System.

4. Accountability Statement

Accountability for implementing this policy lies with the Director of the Passenger Transport Branch.
